Detail Itinerary

Day 01: Arrive at Tribhuwan International Airport (TIA) Kathmandu
Anytime, you will be Welcomed one of our represent staff to pick you up from Tribhuwan International Airport of Nepal and transfer to your hotel. A guide will be introduced and discuss the trip preparation.

Day 02: Fly to Lukla (2855m) and trek to Monjo (2639m) Duration: 5-6 hours
An early morning, around 5am (it depends on your flight time to Lukala). At least, the domestic airlines suggest us be at the airport an hour before than flight time. The flight duration will be 30 minutes to Lukla from Kathmandu. The flight will be adventure scenery of the lifetime. After exit Lukla airport, you will have some light breakfast tea/coffee and introduce with porters. Then after, the Everest adventure journey starts from Lukla to Monjo. Along the way, you will pass some Sherpa villages with some Buddhist monasteries/mani wall/Chortens. While you cross such, the wall should be right-hand side. So, stay to the left as you passing mani walls… About one and half hour walking, you come close to the Dudh Koshi (Milk River) left-hand side. You reach to Monjo after two times cross this Dhudh Koshi.

Day 03: Monjo side trip to Monjo Kharaka (as much as 3600 m to 4505m)Duration: 4/5 hours
The day, all trekkers (group) leave Monjo for Namche but our itinerary turns you above Monjo village, to a hill which is as high as Namche Bazaar. It is a day hiking trip for acclimatizing because of our itinerary will not stop at Namche (3440m) for the next day. This day can see little Kharka/cattle grazing area (little hut of Yaks) and on a clear day can see also Mt Thamserku (6618m), Kwangde peak, Khumbila, and other peaks of the Thame valley, as well as Namche, Syangboche part. You can see another side of the valley, green valley across Monjo and Dudh Koshi which you have been walked just in the previous day. The side trip will be approx 3 to 4 hours (up and down). Take with you some snacks with enough drinking water.

Day 04: Monjo to Mende (3705m) via Namche Bazaar (3440m) Duration: 6-7 hours
The day is a hard and little bit longer than other days but does not worry. After your breakfast, starts your trek to Mende via Namche Bazaar. Immediately, the Sagarmatha National park starts after leaving your hotel where is located a check post for your entry. Trekking trail follows the Dudhkoshi for a while. The same river will be cross 2 times through suspension bridge in a short time. Before climb up to Namche Hill, there is a high bridge (3rd bridge of the day) above the sky, called Hilary Bridge. The river follows from Everest Base Camp side. During climbing to Namche, you can see a little view of Mt Everest through pine trees. Take lunch at Namche then start trekking again to Mend about next 2 hrs. The last 45 minutes trail is quite steep but it takes you with greater views of the mountains surrounding and valleys.

Day 05: Day Excursion to Thame village (3790m)
This is a beautiful day hiking to Thame and not so hard too. You can visit direct Thame Monastery which is situated above Thame village/lodge. The Mende is situated above Thamo, so when you go to Thame then Thamo will be downhill but your trail meets at Some (3580m). Of course, times to time encounter with Mani wall and painted deities of Buddhist. There is a small bridge over the Bhote Koshi (river from Tibet/Bhot) then climb a little steep to Thame (3820m). You can see the valley to Tibet (via Ngangma La pass), which valley follows a little part for Renjo La pass for Gokyo Valley, similarly, the valley of Thame monastery trails follows to Tashi Lapcha pass for Rolwaling Trek. Back to the village for lunch then back to Mende.

Day: 06: Trek to Hotel Everest view (3869m)

Day 06: Mende to Tashinga (3450m) Duration: 4-5 hours
Back a little trail which you have walled on day 4th after Namche but you do not need to be reached to Namche. There is a junction to separate trail for Syangboche/Tashinga via Hotel Everest view. Syangboche is an airstrip with an elevation 3790m. It is one of the highest airports in the world but currently no running planes, just transporting helicopters use this airport. Aafter a little climb, you can see just Wow the world highest mount Everest to straight left with long range wall, Middle a beautiful peak Mt Amadablam (6814m), deep memory of Everest region trekking and just right shoulder next to you standing Mt Thamserku (6618m). You will be joined at Sanasa (3550m) the highway of Everest Base Camp after Hotel Everest view via Khumjung village. If you are reaching early around then suggest visiting Khumjung monastery where you can see Yeti Skull. Or you may stay a night at Hotel Everest view; it makes much comfortable and extraordinary enjoyable trip. After joining the trail to Everest highway, just walk about 15 minutes then Everest Luxury Trek trail separate again for next 20 minutes to reach your Home from touristy trails. This is yours money's valued which you have paid to the Everest Summit Lodge.

Day 07: Tashinga to Pangboche (3985m) via Tengboche Monastery (3860m) Duration: 4-5 hrs
After a little steep downhill (5 minutes) to join to the main trail of Everest Base Camp Trek. Of course, this day takes you closer to the world highest natural towering wall Mt Everest via crossing Dudh koshi (from Gokyo valey) and Tyangboche (3860m). This is a place for lunch break and visit monastery or if you reach early here then you may heading further down to Debuche for the lunch. Cross Imja Khola then it starts Pangboche section. There is upper Pangboche where located one of the oldest monastery in Everest region. You can visit this monastery in the morning time of you trek back to Monjo (Lukla). You sleep just below of Mt Amadablam, it's great.

Day 08: Side Trip to Ama Dablam Base Camp (4570m) Duration: 5-6 hrs
This is a day which brings you to the Base Camp (4570m) of Amadablam. And this altitude will be the highest one of your Everest trekking. Make sure that you have enough dringking water and snacks with light packed lunch. It takes 3 to 4 hrs (max.) to Ama Dablam Base Camp with a wide range valley and mountains view. Be prepared for wind so far.

Day 09: Pangboche to Monjo Duration: 5-6 hrs
This morning, you can visit Pangboche Monastery then trek back to Monjo via Tyangboche and Namche.

Day 10: Monjo to Lukla (2800m) Duration: 5 hrs
Take it easy walking to Lukla back.

Day 11: Fly back to Kathmandu, free day
